LINCOLN'S LARGE FEET.

A Bootmaker's Diagram of Them for Which $1,000 Has Been Refused.

An offer of one thousand dollars was recentiv made by a Washington antiquarian for a sheet of paper upon which, twenty-nine years ago, Abralism Lincoln allowed a shoemaker to trace the outlines of his feet.

This paper is now in New York, in nossession of the original owner's son, who says he would not part with it for any sum of money. The sheet is about twelve or fourteen inches in

The son of the presidential boots maker told the story of the tracing of the diagram as follows:

"Mr. Lincoln was troubled with tender feet. At that time my father was keeping shop in Washington, Collection drafts paid 132 26 are so startling and so numerous, un- and was locally known for n certain style of easy fitted shoes, his own make something after the pattern of A draft for the above balance was of the subject by so trained a mind the so-called common sease shoe worn drawn against Mr. Llucoln and his and so clever a writer as Mrs. Reginald to-day. Lincoln sent for my father, sureties under date of May 20, 1837, de Koven. The Cosmopolitan illus- and when the latter came the former rall-splitter said:

" 'I understand you make shoes big enough for five toes?"

"My father modestly admitted that such were his pretentions.

" 'Well,' went on Mr. Lincoln, 'it such is the case I want to give you an order.

"Lincoln then recited the trouble he had had with shoes. He had a peculisrly-slisped foot, and certainly could Bank of Hartford. not be fitted in any store handling ready-insde goods. Then, too, he deelared, he was tired of his shoemaker, and wanted a change. "Then Lincola took off his boots and following my father's instructlons he stood on the paper while the shoemaker traced with a pencil the outline of the presidential pedals. This sheet is the one for which I recently refused one thousand dollars in cash." Abraham Lincoln was considerably over six feet in height. He had a very large foot. The dimensions are Wednesday, August 7th, via C. O. & marked in lead pencil on the sheet as

Heel, across instep, lest . . . 14 1/2 in Same, right 14 %in Instep, lest 93/in At small toes, left 8in Length, lest 12in Same, right 121/in

Thus it will be observed that Mr. Lincoln's right foot was half an inch longer than his left foot. This, however, according to shoemskers, is nothing out of the common. There was also an enlargement of the great toe joint of the right foot. This came from poor shoes, worn on other occasions.

Mr. Lincolu's order called for a pair of lace shoes, made of fine French calfskin. He later ordered boots and button shoes, but preferred lace shoes to any other. He liked shoes with a broad, flat sole and a low, wide heel. -[N. Y. News.

Elizabeth Grimball. July 20th 1895. OUR SWEET KENTUCKY MAY. The sun shines bright for our sweet Kentucky May Tis aummer and the world's in

The good ship flies and we are merry and gay And we'll make music free from gloom.

Sigh not now ladies Oh, sigh no more to-day. For we'll sing one song For our Sweet Kentucky May For our sweet, our sweet Kentucky May.

May true hearts beat for our Sweet Kentucky May
And our love like a glory fall around that it as thoroughly equipped as

May our thoughts and our wishes he all for her to-day And the dearest of friends e'er surround her.

Miss Frost'a poem is here given:

LINES TO M. E. T. Sailing o'er the dark blue sea, May this he a happy day to thee; Let all remember with song and The day thon earest from Heaven to Earth.

Cans't thou not look back o'er summers mild, And be once more a froliesome child-Playing blithely till day is sped, Then hushed away in thy cradle bed.

The cradle where now thou art soothed to sleep, Is the bosom of the mighty deep; Thy watchers are the mermaids, kind,

So banish care from thy soul away, And be happy on this, thy natal day; Not often audist the rolling years, Is it spent between two hemisheres. SARA GREENLEAF FROST.

July 20th, 1895. Both poems are very pretty and display the exquisite gool taste of the young ladies composing them. Miss Taylor will visit Spain, Italy Switzerland and other Cantinental countries and return to America about the latter part of September.

He spent the day among the prominent Republicans of the eity, talking over the advisibility of the move, and is meeting with encouragement No definite conclusion has been reached as yet, however, and It may be several days before he decides. He has a very time newspaper plant at Middlesborough, which he proposes to move to this city, provided he can induce certain citizens to purchase a partnership in the enterprise, and there seems a disposition on the part of the parties seen to accept the proposition. He thinks the field n good one for the venture and should it materlalize, will not be of the "campaign only" order, but will come to stay. Mr. Dains claims for his plant any newspaper plant in the state outside of Louis ville. Everything pertaining to it is spanking new nne modern and was purchased by him at nn outlay of $4,000.

If he succeeds in finding purchasers here for an interest in the enterprise we will have the paper as a permanen cyotherwise, he will seek anotherfield. DEMOGRATIC CONVENTION

The Democrats Met In Convention Monday

And Nominated Capt. Sam K.Coxfor Representative.

Monday being County Court, Ciruit Comt and old August election lay a large crowd would, of course, e in town. The broken down forces of Democracy took advantage of the crowd that would be here and called Mass Convention to nominate candulates for Representative and Coroner. There never was a time before in the history of the Democracy of Ohio county when that party had to beg anyone to accept its nomination. FIFTH DAY-FRIDAY, AUGUST 9 Always heretofore there have been 3428 J. T. Tueker, &e, vs. S. J. Baseveral caudidates announced for almost every place in the gift of the 3451 Geo. T. Wade vs. R. C. Children Cry for Pitcher's Castoria,

LOST OPPORTUNITIES.

HY MARY A. MILLER.

Dr. Thomas laid aside his weekly paper as his wife appeared at the sitting-room door, snying cheerliy:

'Come, doctor, dinner's rendy. When Dr. Thomas had finished a fervent "grace," he unfolded his napkin, snying to his wife:

'I've just been reading another article about Mr. Childs, and his life of charlty and good deeds. Seems the papers can't say too much about hlm. Almost everything you pick up has something about what he's done, one way or nnother."

"Yes," said Mrs. Thomas, passing his cup of coffee, "I'vo noticed it, too. He must have been n 'bright and shining light' in the community, according to wint they tell of him.'

"He was undoubtedly a great and good man, Martha, and yet it strikes me that it was largely owing to his opportunies-his unusual opportunitles-for doing good. Right in the midst of a great city, with the poor all about him, he could searcely fail to find mnny a chance to do a charitable deed. But you know how It Is here, Martha, right here in Chesterville, people who are naturally as phllanthropic as he was have no chance. They are restricted not only by the fact that they have not such wealth, but they have no opportunities for doing good, even though they would gladly serve the Lord and their fellowmen as he dld."

"Yes, doctor, I believe you would," replied his wife, answering the thought if not the words. Dr. Thomas, comforted in body and soul hy his dinner and his wife's approbation, pushed back his chair, remarking complacently:

"I think, Martha, I can truly say that if the Lord had seen fit to place me in such a position, and to give me the means, He would not bave found me wanting in the spirit. But in my bumble walk lu life there are granted me few opportunities. Still, so far as I have light to see them, I trust I emhrace them gladly, and recognize in them a means of grace and an opportunity for service."

Returning to the sitting-room, Dr. Thomas settled himself comfortably on the lounge for au after-dinner nap, and, not being troubled hy either physical or spiritual indigestion, was soon fast asleep.

He had not slept loug when be was startled by a sound of suppressed laughter and whisper of: "Wait; wait till we all get ln." Then, in response to an explosive little "Now!" the silk handkerchief he had spread over his face ou lying down was jerked suddenly off, and he opened his eyes to see the room filled with impish figures, which sat swinging their little legs from table and chairs, while a whole row of them were perched on the back of the lounge where he lay.

In response to his look of amazement they broke out in peals of mischlevous laughter, exclaiming: "You don't know us, doctor, hut we know youl Oh, yes, we know youl We're some of your opportunities. Look at us, doctor! You never saw us before? You didn't have 'light' enough to see us hy; hut you see us nowl Oh, yes, you see us now!"

At sight of his increased bewilderment they only laughed the harder, and swung their ilttle legs in a very ahandonment of glee, exclaiming:

"There's a lot of us, doctor-alot of usl You dldn't know there were so many of us, dld you? And there's a lot more of us that are lost. Too bad, doctor, lsn't it? But we're all here, doctor! Oh, yes, we're all here! You didn't seem to see us when we came alone, so this time we thought we'd all come together."

The doctor looked helplessly from one to another, and, clearing his throat in a slightly embarrassed manner, sald:

"Ahem! Well, I wish you wouldn't all talk at onee!" Then addressing a little fellow perched near his pillow, he sald: "Suppose you tell me who you are and what you want."

"Certaiuly, doctor," the little elf replied; while a subdued chorus of 'Certainly, certainly!" was heard all over the room, accompanied hy stifled peals of laughter. "I'm an opportunity that was sent to you the other day. You didn't see me tben, hut you see me now."

"Oh, yes, doctor, you see blm nowl" burst in delight from the laughing elves. "Don't you remember," the little fellow continued, "when the blg basket of clothes came home, and Mrs. Thomas sald she wondered if she wasn't paying too much for the washing in these hard times? That hig hasket full for a dollar, you know, doctor! And she said Mrs. Brown only pald seventy-five cents, with tbree in the family; and somebody across the river only paid eighty cents, and had ever so much blgger washings, and all done hy the same woman. Yes, I see you remember,' as a red flush spread over the doctor's face. With a little stammeriug he replled: "Well, I told Martha I guessed the woman wasn't overpald, and that 'the laborer was worthy of his hire.'

''Oh, yes, we know you did, we know you did! But afterwards you talked it over with ber, and you said if he knew that .- [Mountain Ecbo. you didn't feel called upon to pay more than other folks, and if Mrs. Brown oaly pald seventy-five cents for hers it was as much as yours was worth. And all this time, doctor, you knew the poor woman worked day and night to support berself and her children, and hard times for you meant hard times for her, and if others ground her down to the lowest possible price there was the more need for you to he liberal."

That was your opportunity, doctorl" eried the others, emphatically. "That was your opportunity. You see it now!" The doctor shifted his position rather nervously, and his eye rested on a little fellow perched ou a chair

'And who are you?" he asked. "Are you an opportunity, too?" "If Oh, yes, I'm one of them," Hartford Republican he replied; while the chorus exclaimed with delight: "Oh, yes, he's one of usl he's one of usl" The elf continued: "Glad you see me now, doctor. I tried hard to be noticed last fall. You remember when you took that poor little Packard boy to work for his board and clothes? Good boy he was, too—" "Humphil" interrupted Dr. Thomas. ''Little runtl Good enough; hut he'd eat more than a man any dayl Just couldn't fill him up!" Poor little starved fellow! Never had two square meals in his life he fore; but you sent him to the poorhouse because you 'couldn't afford to feed him.' You couldn't see that opportunity theu—"

"No," interrupted the others, "but you see it now! Oh, yes, you see it now!" Again the doctor squirmed, and his eye fell ou a little fellow, evidently anxlous to speak, for without walting to be asked he broke out: "You want to know who I am? Well, I'm the best opportunity you've had lately. You know they are about to foreclose the mortgage on Miss Clark's house, and then the poor, half-blind old woman must leave her home and go out brokenhearted to live with strangers. If you were really looking for opportu-

ple Canyon mlnes?" replied the ilttle fellow, confidentially, with a knowing wink. "This is a safer investment than that would he, and, if you are looking for an opportunity to luvest, it strikes me this is your chance.'

"Oh, yes, doctor, that's your chancel" bowled the rest ln glee. Then they all seemed to become eager to introduce themselves at once, and thronged about him, illing his ears with a confused din of: "Do you know me,doctor?" "You've never seen me before, doctor?" 'Don't you remember, dootor?" until in the midst of the Babel he felt his shoulder gently shaken, and recognized his wife's voice saying, apologetleally: "I'm sorry to wake you, hut Mrs. Johns has brought home the wash, and I haven't any change. Seventy-five cents is enough, you know; I arranged it with ber just now. She seemed dreadfully down about it, hut she said rather than lose the wash she would do lt for

But the doctor handed his wife the usual price, saying, decidedly: "I think, Martha, it is worth it, and that others underpay her should be uo reason for our doing so. And, Martha, when you are through out there, I wish you'd come in, I want to talk over one or two matters with you.'

And as his wife left the room he half expected to hear again the peals of elfin laughter, and the chorus of volces exclaimlug: "You see us now, doctorl Oh, yes, you see us now!' -Cblcago Advance.

Ruby Mining In Burmah.

A large quantity of the world's supply of rubles comes from the Burmah mines, which have been actively worked sineo the annexation of Burman by the British government. The ruby district is about twenty-six miles long and twelve broad, and lies at elevations varying from four thousand to five thousand feet above the sea level. Some of the mlnes have been worked by the natives from very remote periods; in fact, old workings are found over an area of sixty-six square miles. It ls in the lower clay heds of the river alluvia, and in similar deposits formed in guilles in the hill-wash, that the rubles, spinels and other gems are found. In the alluvia square plts from two feet to nine feet across, lngenlously timbered with bamboo, are sunk to the ruhy earth, which is drawn up by hamboo haskets. In the hill-wash long open trenches are earried from the sides of a guily. Regular mines are opened lu some places; in others tbe limestone is quarried.

Knew Nothing Candidate. "Knownothing" would be an appropriate name for Hardln, the Demperatic candidate for Governor. Since Mr. Hardin's nomination he has been as silent as a clam, no newspaper correspondent has ever been able to get one word of an interview out of him. Realizing this fact n hetel clerk in Louisville undertook the task of interviewing him, thinking probably that he would meet with better success, but whether he dld or not we leave it to the reader to judge for binuself. Sald the clerk: "Are you going to debate with Col. Bradley?" "I don't know." "Will the Populist candidate be given a chance in those debates?" "I don't hen has gone to sitting. Do You Know that oplum and morphine are stupefying narcotic poisons? Do You Know that in most countries druggislasse not permitted losell narcotics

Do You Know that you should not permit any medicine to be given your child unless you or your physician know of what it is composed?

Do You Know that Castoria is a purely vegetable preparation, and that a list of Its ingredients is published with every bottle? Do You Know that Castoria is the prescription of the famous Dr. Samuel Pitcher. That it has been in use for nearly thirty years, and that more Castotis is now sold than of all other remedies for children combined? Do You Know that the l'atent Office Department of the United States, and of other countries, have issued exclusive right to Dr. Pitcher and his assigns to use the word

" Castoria " and its formula, and that to imitate them is a state prison offense? Do You Know that one of the reasons for granting this government protection was because Contoria had been proven to be absolutely harmitess?

Do You Know that 35 average doses of Castoria are furnished for 35 cents, or one cent a done? Do You Know that when possessed of this perfect preparation, your children may be kepl well, and that you may have unbroken rest? Well, these things are worth knowing. They are facts, originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system. It is a well known last that there are thousands of men in all parls of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from n few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or mere hy these who invest a few thousand.

It is also a lact that those who make the largest profits from comparitively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invests through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading. Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested ou any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a sicedy profit that piles up enormously in a short time

TESTING EGGS. RIPANS

A Handy Way of Discovering Their Condition.

Eggs, in a fresh condition, are one of our greatest food supplies, but stale or decayed eggs are an abouinationnuisance in the extreme. The writer discoved a way to test in the head. Take a phamplet about let live." B by 12 inches in size and make a tude by rolling it up just so an ordinary hen's egg will not go in sideways. Place the egg in sideways and roll it towards you, holding it either in a strong sunlight or looking towards a bright light. A fertile egg will, after four days' incubation, contain a small red spider-like foetus of the coming cblek. This enlarges rapidly, and it is unite interesting to one having the tlue to watch its de velopment. An unfertile egg is perfectly clear, regardless of the when desired without observation or time of incuberation, and is fresh for table use for several days after the which the chick or germ has died during some of the embrlotic stages.

Before boiling eggs, especially at this season of the year, it is a good idea to test them and prevent all posslblllty of a scene at the table. A ver. Office of THE PIONEER PRESS COPMANY, C. W. HDRNICK, Supt. St. Paul, Minu., Sept. 7, 1894.

Eureka Chemical and M'f g Co., La Cross, Wis. Dear sirs.—I have been a tobacco fend for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty eigen, regnianly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physicians teld me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keeley Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco Curo." Three weeks ago success, that I accidentally learned by your maco-claim. The wieks ago to-day I commenced using your preparation, and to-day I consider myself completely cured; I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which ever inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it.

Yours very truly, C. W. Hornick.
